ABOUT THE MIX

My good friend Mr. Ducker isn't a DJ, but he always wanted to make an ultimate '90s tape, something that brought a mixshow vibe to alt nation sounds. When he asked me to get down with his dream and collaborate, we delved deep into our middle and high school record collections (and used CD bargain bins) and brainstormed new ways to present all the alternative music we grew up on. We were inspired by DJ Spinbad's impossibly fun '80s pop mixes: big hits next to unexpected favorites with lots of movie dialogue and interludes for jokes, all smashed up in a dance party megamixxx. Picking from hundreds of beloved Buzz Bin jams was easier said than done (sorry Superdrag, you'll make Vol. 2!), but with the Mishka crew's annual trip to Magic in Las Vegas giving us an actual deadline, we finally finished this badmotorfinger as a giveaway CD for their new season. Even with double digit-old tunes, Radio Friendly Unit Shifter feels right on time, connecting the dots between Sonic Youth break beats, weeded Lollapalooza rap, gloriously fuzzed-out one hit wonders and much more. No irony, no empty nostalgia, just a lot of music that we love and that ultimately shaped what we do today. They used to play King Missile on the radio! In America! Download and enjoy. - Nick Catchdubs

ABOUT NICK CATCHDUBS & MR. DUCKER

As co-founder of the rising Fool's Gold record label (named an "Indie visionary" by Billboard) and architect of critically acclaimed mixtapes for Wale and Izza Kizza, Brooklyn-based DJ Nick Catchdubs has made a name for himself as a respected tastemaker in today's music scene. He's also an in-demand party rocker, dropping headlining club sets from coast to coast while opening for the likes of Clipse, Spankrock and Rhianna. Meanwhile over in Los Angeles, Mr. Ducker has been one of the best at discovering and championing emerging sounds and new artists for years as an editor and writer for The FADER, The LA Times and others. He wrote the first major features on artists including No Age, Ed Banger Records and Feist. Listen to his latest "Jam Palace" picks every Friday during The Let Out on East Village Radio.

ABOUT MISHKA NYC

In Russian, Mishka [pronounced: mee-shka] means "bear cub". Bear cubs in general are intelligent, independent and gentle, but anger one and it'll tear your face off!
